

Too Much Talk Of What Others Should Do, Salesmen Told

"Must Keep Faith," Declares Chairman Aubrey Davis At Pre-Campaign Rally Of Workers

"We enter this campaign with a responsibility twice as heavy as that in the June campaign," stated Aubrey Davis, president of the Davis Leather Co. and chairman of the Victory Loan committee for northern York, at an organization dinner at Pickering College on Thursday evening.

Citizens from all parts of the district were present. Headmaster Joseph McCutley and Mayor Dr. L. W. Dales were among those seated at the head table. A Gordon Nairn, Toronto, field supervisor of the Life Underwriters' Association, was the guest speaker.

"We find the objective assigned to York North is double what it was in the June campaign," said Mr. Davis. "We are going to reach our objective. We can't do otherwise. We must be true to our forefathers, who had the red blood to come and settle this country, which is the richest in the world."

"We must also keep faith with the young men who in the Great War held high the torch. We must keep faith with those who in this war have offered their services."

"Even if some of us do hear criticisms as the campaign goes on, that is not our responsibility. Our responsibility is to see that the funds needed are subscribed."

"I note an unusually large number of clergymen present. We are glad to have them with us. They are leading important forces in this campaign."

"The god of battles is always present in these struggles. The old soldier will relate to you instances of invisible forces that turned the tide of battle. The god of battles was not far absent at Dunkirk. I think the god of battles made the enemy forces disagree when Britain was helpless and defenceless."

"I think the god of battles was there when the enemy was directed eastward and into the difficulties in which he now finds himself."

"Today we Canadians must think more realistically than we have ever thought before," said Mr. Nairn.

"Is the purchase of a Victory bond a sound investment?" asked Mr. Nairn. "I don't know any investment that will be sound unless we buy Victory bonds.

VALENTINE DANCE IS ON FRIDAY EVE

The Red Cross Valentine dance, to be held in the high school auditorium tomorrow evening promises to be a gala affair. The high school will be attractively decorated in red and white for the occasion.

Art. West and his orchestra will supply the rhythmic strains for the dancers. Dancing starts at 9 p.m.

A.R.P. WARDEN TELLS OF TORONTO SET-UP

"It is necessary that all citizens of Ontario should know what we might be up against from air, sabotage or subversive elements," Major K. G. Macpherson of Toronto said, speaking to a good crowd in the town hall on Tuesday evening on the subject of air raid precautions.

The lecture was part of the program of the War Emergency course being given under the auspices of the Home and School Association.

Mrs. J. C. R. Edwards, Home and School Association president, opened the meeting and asked Mayor Dr. L. W. Dales to take the chair. Mrs. Edwards thanked Dr. Dales and the council for the interest they had taken in A.R.P.

Dr. Dales explained that the town council had sponsored this lecture on A.R.P. work. "I want to express the appreciation of the municipal body of the town for the work you are doing along these educational lines," he said.

Col. R. B. Harkness, C.O. of the Newmarket training centre, who was expected at the meeting, was unable to be present because of illness. Capt. J. C. R. Edwards brought greetings on behalf of Col. Harkness.

Dr. Dales introduced Major Macpherson as one of the original organizers of A.R.P. work in the province of Ontario and a veteran of the last war with a long record of public service. Major Macpherson is one of Toronto's air raid wardens.

"We've got to be prepared, we've had so many surprises in the last year that we don't know what may happen," Major Macpherson said. "The modern bomber can carry from 1,000 to 2,000 of the most modern electronic bombs. We have no protection here. It would be quite simple to send such a plane to the interior of Canada. Sixty percent of war munitions are made within a few miles of Toronto. We must be able to meet such a contingency if it should arise."

He explained the A.R.P. organization in Toronto, discussing the taking of surveys of the occupants of each home, the appointment and training of air raid wardens, the activities of the practice black-outs, and gave suggestions about first steps in the setting up of such an organization.

Mrs. Edwards again took the chair to introduce Dr. S. J. Boyd, who spoke on burns and their treatment.

Dr. Boyd discussed the modern hazards of gasoline and warned against the fire hazard of spontaneous combustion caused by greasy rags and papers left lying together. He also mentioned pills of boiling water left on the floor and hot things cooking on the stove as two causes of children's deaths from burns.

Dr. Boyd explained the various types of burns and their treatment, referring to the treatment used at the time of the explosion at the Cane factory some years ago, when he had to treat 13 badly burned employees.

In dealing with how to leave a burning building he explained that a person should crawl along near the floor to avoid suffocation and should wrap a towel or cloth around the hair and mouth. A wet cloth should be used over the mouth if possible.

Dr. Boyd's address was followed by a demonstration by a group of boys from Newmarket high school, trained by H. C. Westbrook, who showed the correct way of getting a victim out of a burning building and of putting out fire when a person's clothing is burning.

This all took place in the Newmarket arena. The crowd was scattered, but those who braved the game and the cold were delighted with the crowd-pleasing variety of puck-chasing.

For instance, they enjoyed Walt Groves' hat trick of three goals of which only two were awarded him as the third was termed illegal—perhaps it didn't even enter the net—at least, so the goalie, Russ Dillman, claimed, and the goalie must be right, as it is his net.

Joe Alderson tried to swallow the puck as it connected with his teeth—Joe wants to be careful or they will pinch him for handling rubber—and Joe Peat hammered the invading north or south of the elevator boys with lusty body thumps.

It is understood that Cliff Gunn, former Aurora junior player, will accept an all-star team from the tannery to engage the Specialty stars in the near future and you can bet that fixture will be an eye-opener at Stan Smith's ice palace.

Scorers for Joe Alderson's "Murps" were as follows: Bohmer Groves 2, Walt Groves 2, Joe Peat 1, Tunstead 1, and Alderson 1.

SAVE WASTE FATS AND OILS, SAY SALVAGERS

"Production of fats and oils in Canada, a vast quantity of by-products, approximately 300,000,000 pounds per year," declares a statement from the Newmarket Salvage committee. "In spite of this, the annual deficiency of animal, fish, and vegetable oils is some 200,000,000 pounds."

"To meet this deficiency we normally import, but war in the Pacific has shut off vital sources. We must now conserve our reserves and increase domestic production through salvage of household fats and greases, increased recoveries from manufacturing and increased cultivation of flax seed, soy beans, etc."

"Fats and oils are vitally needed for lubrication, and manufacture of paint and varnish, soap, wool, cotton and rayon textiles, dyeing, flanning, printing, linoleum, rubber, flavoring extracts, domestic shortening, edible salad oils and preparation of many foodstuffs. In addition, glycerine, which is used for explosives, is obtained from fats."

"In Canada and the United States the situation is serious and in England even more so. Early prospects are that fats and oils resources in Canada and the United States will be pooled to maintain British supplies and provide for war industries and essential civilian use."

"Further stimulation of every available source of supply is necessary. Waste household fats and greases are very necessary to help relieve the shortage. If you have not already done so, start saving all waste fats and grease, and turn it in for war use."

MURPS AND TWIRPS TANGLE ON ICE, 7-6

By "THE SNOOPER"
Joe Alderson's sextet, the "Murps," defeated Cliff Gunn's crew, the "Twirps," 7-6 in a tannery hockey feud on Tuesday evening.

Call it what you may, but it was still a hockey game and hockey games are as scarce as salmon in the Water St. dam in little old Newmarket this year.

Davis Leather Company supplied both teams. The boys north of the elevator opposed the south of the elevator (the same elevator we presume) and opposed each other in a real 60-minute "no time out" thriller with Joe Alderson's north of the elevator boys emerging victorious.

This all took place in the Newmarket arena. The crowd was scattered, but those who braved the game and the cold were delighted with the crowd-pleasing variety of puck-chasing.

For instance, they enjoyed Walt Groves' hat trick of three goals of which only two were awarded him as the third was termed illegal—perhaps it didn't even enter the net—at least, so the goalie, Russ Dillman, claimed, and the goalie must be right, as it is his net.

Joe Alderson tried to swallow the puck as it connected with his teeth—Joe wants to be careful or they will pinch him for handling rubber—and Joe Peat hammered the invading north or south of the elevator boys with lusty body thumps.

It is understood that Cliff Gunn, former Aurora junior player, will accept an all-star team from the tannery to engage the Specialty stars in the near future and you can bet that fixture will be an eye-opener at Stan Smith's ice palace.

Scorers for Joe Alderson's "Murps" were as follows: Bohmer Groves 2, Walt Groves 2, Joe Peat 1, Tunstead 1, and Alderson 1.

For Cliff Gunn's "Twirps" Gunn led his team with two goals, accompanied by his teammate, Normy Leggo, while Harold Smart and Bruce Townsley netted singletons.

VETERANS RAISE $95 FOR COMFORTS FUND

One of the most enjoyable and successful of the events that are put on from time to time by the Newmarket Veterans' Association was the progressive euchre held in the town hall on Friday evening for the Soldiers' Comfort Fund for Newmarket boys overseas.

The veterans, assisted by several ladies who are interested in the welfare of the boys overseas, "went to town" on the sale of tickets, with the result that a record crowd was in attendance to enjoy the evening's entertainment. Forty-three tables were necessary to accommodate the players and all were kept busy until around 11 o'clock, when a halt was called and the hall cleared for old-time dancing, which was a surprise for all present. The music was supplied by Harvey Miller and family of Queensville and called off by Sid Legge of Newmarket.

Between the dances, Miss Ruby Forsythe gave a splendid exhibition of dancing, which was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

O. Penneck of Toronto was master of ceremonies and under his guidance everything moved along without confusion or anyone getting lost in the maze of tables.

The following were the lucky prize-winners: gentlemen's high, first prize, Mr. Burling, score 101; second prize, T. F. Doyle, score 96; low prize, H. Walls, score 43; lone hand prize, Fred Hillaby; ladies' high, first prize, Norma Drury, score 88; second prize, Mrs. H. Brammer, score 85; low prize, Mrs. W. Adams, score 47; lone hand prize, Miss Alzina Owens. Prizes were also given on a draw from the score cards used.

Smith's Hardware donated a glass dish as a prize. A 5-lb. tin of floor wax and wallpaper were also donated as prizes.

A draw for a silver-plated casserole, donated by Councillor Frank Bowser, was won by C. Cowieson, Newmarket.

The proceeds from the sale of tickets and cash taken in at the door amounted to the sum of $83, and the amount realized on the draw for the casserole was $12, making a total for the Soldiers' Comfort Fund of $95.

The members of the Soldiers' Comfort Fund committee were very grateful to all who helped to make the event such a success.

IS RECOVERING

A total of $11.16 has been sent to the Queen's Canadian Fund by the Saturday Afternoon club, through The Era.

OBJECTIVE IS UP, CAMPAIGN WORKERS SET

WHAT YORK NORTH DID BEFORE IT IS ASKED TO DO ONCE AGAIN

NAME CANVASSERS

Monday may be wash-day but it is also the first day of the second Victory loan. Canvassers throughout North York are ready to cross the line with the gun, with every expectation of attaining their goal—$1,600,000—and perhaps surpassing it.

The quota of $1,600,000 plus $300,000 from "special names" compares with a 1941 quota of $1,000,000 and $300,000 "special names" and a 1941 attainment of $1,870,000 and $350,000 "special names."

Canvassers for the northern municipalities are: Newmarket, Joseph Vale, St. Patrick's; W. L. Bosworth, St. Andrew's; W. H. Eves, St. George's; Aurora, Thos. F. Swindle, Frank Underhill, Wyatt Baldwin; North Gwillimbury, Percy Mahoney, Keswick, George White, Keswick; King, Major N. P. Kelley, R. R. 2, Newmarket, E. A. Bonnick, Oak Ridges, Aubrey Doane, R. R. 2, Newmarket, Gladstone Lloyd, Schomberg, H. S. Pringle, Nobleton, George Horlings, R. R. 2, Newmarket.

Whitechurch, H. West, R. R. 3, Newmarket, J. A. Clark, R. R. 4, Stouffville, G. H. Leary, R. R. 1, Gormley, R. Button, Stouffville, A. C. Burkholder, Stouffville, T. B. Rae, Stouffville; Sutton, M. O. Tremayne; Georgina, R. H. Corner, Pefferlaw.

East Gwillimbury, Horace Pearson, Mount Albert, Welly Stevens, Sharon, G. B. Thompson, Holland Landing.

AUCTIONEER GAVE "ALL HE HAD," MANY HELPED

Scores of citizens of Newmarket and district generously donated goods or cash to the recent White Elephant sale and many buyers supported the event with their bids on sale nights, states President W. M. Cockburn, in expressing the club's thanks, Fred Smith, the genial auctioneer, gave his services free for both nights.

W. J. Hopkinson, Ross Hugo and Robert Chadwick generously donated the valuable prizes for the draw, which proved so popular. At an executive meeting on Friday evening it was announced that when the remaining pairs of skates at Victor's, and a few articles of clothing, have been disposed of, there will be approximately $600 clear.

HAS OPERATION

Douglas May, young son of Pte. and Mrs. Douglas May, was operated on for appendicitis at York county hospital on Friday. He is progressing favorably. Pte. May is overseas.

Specialty Employees Will Help War Victims

Preparations for the big "Office Specialty Night" next Thursday evening are going ahead according to schedule. Eddie Gibson has shaped his metal-shop team into good form, while John O'Halloran is planning and sending his woodworkers to a smooth finish.

Tickets have been on sale for a week, and a capacity crowd is anticipated. It was necessary to print a second edition of tickets, as the sale has surpassed all expectations. The entire proceeds will be sent to the British War Victims' Fund and it is expected that even those who find it impossible to attend the arena will buy a ticket to help this worthy cause.

Both hockey teams are composed of highly professional amateurs who are primed to the explosion point with the bitter rivalry which has long existed between these two departments. In goal for the wood-shop will be that "Napoleon of the Nets," Jack Groves, while the remainder of the team will include such stars as "Pete" Newbold, "Frankie" Burch, "Howie" Hamilton, Dick Waller, Aub. Rae, "Ab" Evans and "Doc" Boyd. It is expected that a few "dark horses" will also come to light to make a solid old job of the wood-shop team.

In opposition, the steel workers place their neck-and-neck in the capable hands of Gordie Gardner. The line-up on this side also includes many sensational players. It is expected that "Big Joe" Cribb will play defence and that "Little Gene" Broughton will warm his dwarfish stature to the high scoring brackets. Many of the men on the metal shop team will be familiar to Newmarket fans but a number of newcomers promise some startling results.

Here's a secret that has heretofore been in the closet! Also on the bill for "Office Specialty Night" will be (by special arrangement) a company of real, live, ferocious lions. Yes, air, but the management has promised that no accidents will take place, as a trainer will be in attendance.

Victory Loan Opens With Minute Pause And Flag-Raising

Victory Chorus Will Sing In Newmarket
Tuesday, Capt. Rawson Will Give Loan Message

The Victory loan campaign commences Monday.

A message from Mayor Dr. L. W. Dales is as follows: "At 12.10 Monday the ceremony of raising the flag on the Victory flagpole will take place. I respectfully request as many citizens as possible to attend, especially the town officials and officials of the various town organizations, and the school children."

A detachment from B.T.C. 23 has been provided by Col. R. B. Harkness, D.S.O., to officiate at the ceremony. The part the citizens are asked to play is as follows:

"At the sound of the Office Specialty whistle, after the flag is raised, everyone is asked to stop work, cars and play, or whatever engaged in at the moment, and remain respectfully quiet and in their places for one minute until the whistles and bells have ceased sounding.

"For this minute you are asked to consider the seriousness of our nation's emergency, and to determine to do your part to see that our men are adequately equipped. Please co-operate in this patriotic demonstration."

Aurora's Victory choir and Newmarket's double trio will repeat in Trinity United church, Newmarket, next Tuesday the splendid concert given in Aurora this Tuesday evening.

The concert will support the Victory loan campaign. Capt. the Rev. Norman Rawson of Hamilton will speak.

Newmarket Boy Scouts and Wolf Cubs are selling the tickets in a door-to-door campaign. Everyone is asked to buy a ticket.

Doctors May Have Nominee On York Hospital Board

BEQUESTS ARE MORE NUMEROUS THAN AT ANY TIME IN HISTORY

Total assets of $123,720 were reported by Secretary-Treasurer J. J. McCaffrey at the annual meeting of York county hospital in the council chambers on Monday evening.

Increased operating costs were reported, with an operating profit of $522 before allowing for depreciation. Mr. McCaffrey reported that there were more bequests, which totalled $1,700, than in any previous year in the history of the hospital. Total receipts of $30,823 were the highest in the history of the hospital.

President W. H. Eves reported that there had been an increase of 87 patients over the previous year and a daily average of 32 patients. There were 207 births in the hospital during the year.

Three directors, E. J. Davis, H. P. Gilman and P. J. Tod, were re-elected for three-year terms. Dr. G. E. Case, Newmarket, who is already a member of the board, Dr. C. W. Williams, Aurora, and Dr. J. L. Urquhart, Aurora, asked that the medical profession be given direct representation on the board.

The doctors argued that a hospital should not be run as a business institution, but should if necessary go into debt in order to give adequate community service.

It was agreed that the constitution would be amended so that a board member might be named by the doctors who are using the hospital. The board stipulated that the physicians must be unanimous in their nomination.

After the general meeting the directors met and elected the following officers: honorary patron, Sir William Mulock; hon. pres., George D. Wark; president, W. H. Eves; vice-president, E. J. Davis; sec.-treas., J. J. McCaffrey; house committee, P. J. Tod, J. S. Law, G. I. Manning.

The following letter was received by the Newmarket Veterans' Association from IAC Henry VanZant, radio mechanic.

Newmarket Veterans' Association:
Hello! Hello! Hello! Scotland calling, not to broadcast but to thank you for the two small parcels. I really must apologize for not acknowledging your first parcel before, as it has been almost a month since it arrived. The parcel that came today was marked "Salvaged from the sea." It couldn't have had much of a ducking though, as all that was spoiled was the melted chocolate. If you can find Wick on the map you will see that we are almost at land's end, in the northern part of Scotland.

We had a very nice Xmas, considering circumstances, but I must admit it was the quietest I can remember. I want to thank one and all of you for the parcels. Wishing everyone their most successful year.

Sincerely,

GIFTS ACKNOWLEDGED

Additions to the Newmarket Veterans' association comforts fund are acknowledged by Treasurer Alex. McInosh as follows: Veterans' clothes, $83.41; A. N. Belugin, $5; George Young, $2; Ed. Brammer, $2; Jack Stephenson, $1.

FLOWER SOCIETY HAS BEST YEAR SO FAR

Sanford W. King was re-elected president of the Newmarket Horticultural Society at their annual meeting in Trinity United church on Thursday evening.

Other officers re-elected were R. L. Boag, first vice-president, Miss Florence Cole, second vice-president, Norman Williams, secretary, and F. H. Hewson, treasurer. A financial report was given.

Prizes were presented by R. L. Boag. Mr. Williams, reporting for the civic improvement committee, said that the society had enjoyed its most successful year yet. He reported that 70 shade trees and many shrubs and peony roots had been provided at the various schools, at the waterworks, the community flag-pole, etc. They also sent trees and shrubs to S. S. No. 3 at Whitechurch.

The society provided, in addition, from 50 to 60 evergreen trees, many plants and shrubs, and grass seed, which filled six army trucks, for the military camp. These were sent to the camp and planted by the soldiers, transforming the camp from "mud-hole" and greatly improving the appearance of the place.

Mr. Williams praised the work and interest shown by the boys at the camp in this work. A letter of appreciation from the camp was read.

H. A. Jackson's orchestra provided music and at the close of the business session games and guessing contests were enjoyed and refreshments served.

Increases Voted To N.H.S. Staff, Belugin Is Chairman

G. L. MANNING NAMED TO BOARD AGAIN BY COUNTY COUNCIL

Salary increases (or cost of living bonuses) of $100 a year to married teachers and $50 to unmarried teachers were approved at a special meeting of the Newmarket high school board yesterday afternoon. The caretaker, F. L. Barker, was included in the increases, receiving $100. The secretary, Allan Mills, received a $25 a year increase.

The matter had been referred to the management committee at the board in the council chamber last Thursday.

A. N. Belugin was elected chairman, in accordance with the practice of passing the chairmanship around from year to year. Standing committees were elected as follows: finance, G. L. Manning; J. E. Nesbitt, management, W. J. Patterson, Fred Chantler, Dr. J. D. Muckler, supply, W. J. Geer, R. L. Boag.

Mr. Belugin reported to the board that the Red Cross dance arrangements had been satisfactory. Principal J. B. Baesto reported that the soldiers' evening classes were orderly and had caused no extra work.

NEW CHAIRMAN

A. N. BELUGIN

The board approved the customary grant of $90 to the school athletic societies.

The secretary said that he had been notified of the reappointment of G. L. Manning to the board as a representative of the county council for a further term of three years.

WE WRITE SOMETHING WE CAN AGREE WITH

"The C.C.F. may give the Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen a close run in South York, but we do not expect the C.C.F. to win." The Era published the above opinion two weeks ago, and proceeded to argue that the C.C.F. campaign was not calculated to gain Liberal support, which obviously would determine the victor. When Mr. Hepburn and Col. Drew got into the campaign on behalf of Mr. Meighen, however, and began to assail the Liberal government at Ottawa, many Liberals withdrew their support from Mr. Meighen and worked and voted for Mr. Noseworthy. The result was a decisive Noseworthy victory.

We have not yet seen an analysis of the four by-elections with which we can agree fully, and therefore we must write one to our liking. We don't ask anyone to agree with ours. On the surface, there seemed to be a great King government victory. Certainly, there must have been much relief on the part of Mr. King, to see the arch-criic Meighen defeated, and Liberals elected in the other three ridings.

For our own part, we can't see that the government achieved any great gains, if, indeed, it held its ground. Its victory in the two Quebec ridings was to be expected and was based on apparently unauthorized prophecies that Mr. King never would introduce overseas conscription. Its victory in Welland was very much of a minority victory. The anti-plebiscite candidate, but a short time in the field, ran close to the personally popular Humphrey Mitchell, who had the prestige of a minister of the crown (and the patronage). Either of the other candidates might have won a two-candidate by-election.

There remains the South York by-election. What of significance is there in that vote? Canada's chief advocate of overseas conscription was defeated, but Canada's chief advocate of less severe taxation of business was also defeated. Which Mr. Meighen received the defeat? After looking at the victor's platform of conscription of wealth, industry and manpower, one perceives that there was, in the popular understanding, only one Mr. Meighen to vote for or against. That Mr. Meighen was the advocate of human contributions first, and material contributions second. The result was that Forest Hill Village, probably Canada's wealthiest municipality, voted two to one for Mr. Meighen, and an extensive workingman's section of the riding voted two to one for Mr. Noseworthy.

Can the C.C.F. itself feel that the party scored a victory? We would say not a socialist victory. The C.C.F. as the Canadian equivalent of the British Labour party, will sooner or later be one of Canada's two major political parties, and every member who gets into the house is another man with the time and means to stump the country preaching the gospel of the co-operative commonwealth. However, the C.C.F. in South York, whatever progress it made, had the benefit of strong Liberal support and the support of many who were voting against what they conceived to be the Meighen idea of war sacrifices. The C.C.F. must count its chief gains in South York one seat in the present parliament and the casting of their first C.C.F. votes by many thousands of electors. Many of them will find it easier to vote C.C.F. another time.

The Conservatives need not count the by-election entirely a loss. They have rid themselves, at small cost, of leadership which could not take them far. All they need do now is to rid themselves of the outmoded ideas that went with that leadership.

Probably there was some comfort in the South York by-election for the King government. Mr. Meighen was regarded as the chief potential critic of the government, and he was supported by other critics of the "war effort." The result indicates to us that the average Canadian thinks pretty well of the war effort, and that the King government could win another general election if it should appeal to the people at the present time.

THIS EXPENDITURE COULD BE SAVED

For the purposes of the coming plebiscite on compulsory overseas service it seems to us that the 1940 voters' lists would be sufficient. Preparation of new lists, which it is said is contemplated, would cost probably three-quarters of a million dollars, and would also take a lot of useful man-hours from more necessary work. Sufficient copies of the 1940 lists could probably be found for the purposes of a plebiscite. Supplementary lists could be prepared of the names of soldiers, of persons who have become 21 years old since the 1940 election as shown by the national registration or by the census, and of any others who asked the revising officer to put their names on the list.

The principal purpose of the plebiscite, it seems, is to find out if the people who voted in 1940 have changed their minds on the question of overseas compulsory service or at least how the people who voted in 1940 now feel on this question, and no great misarrangement of democracy could result from using the 1940 lists, supplemented by the names of soldiers, new voters and persons who took the initiative to have their names added. There will be little need to worry about names on the list that shouldn't be there. People are not going to do any impersonating in a plebiscite.

Or if the 1940 federal lists have been destroyed, municipal lists could be used.

BITS AND PIECES

Mention at a town council meeting last week that a Newmarket foundry was making a small piece as a sub-contract for a Toronto firm engaged in war work is the first public intimation that Newmarket is playing a part in the "bits and pieces" program which is giving Canada's industrial war effort such a momentum. The genius of this program is in the use of skilled men and machine tools where they are, without, as far as possible, the construction of new factory buildings, the costly manufacture of new tools, the costly and dislocating summoning of skilled men from their present places of employment. And the funny part of it all is that a former university professor—one of those scorned, useless, theoretical, mischievous individuals—is the "head man" in this remarkable program. Yes, the Hon. C. D. Howe once was a professor at Dalhousie University down by the Lantic Goshen (for benefit of censors).

HOW MR. HEPBURN CAN HELP

If it were lawful, Newmarket people would not object to our town council putting $5,000 (two mills on the tax rate) into Victory bonds at the present time, and spending it after the war during the readjustment period. The Orillia Packet and Times states that some municipalities have sinking funds which they are going to put into the war bonds, and urges Premier Hepburn to authorize (with legislative authority to be added later) all municipalities to invest part of their current revenue in these bonds. That is quite sound. Our municipal law permits us to mortgage the future, but we cannot save for the future. This is unlike the law in some of the western provinces, where municipalities are encouraged to accumulate the money required to build a school before undertaking its construction.

FREE ADVICE TO CANADIAN GIRLS

That highly provocative, delightfully delicious writer, one B. K. Sandwell, editor of the Toronto Saturday Night, has started a controversy, as he loves to start controversies, by writing of the unsophisticated Canadian soldiers who are being ensnared (and married) by the wiles of British womanhood. Mr. Sandwell thinks the situation unfair to "Canadian spinsterhood," according to a woman writer who has taken issue with him. Another writer, Hugh Templin, editor of the Fergus News-Record, who accompanied Mr. Sandwell on a recent Britain-sponsored tour of the front line (where British females "trap" Canadian males), as is to be expected from one who didn't hesitate to fly the Atlantic in war time (and sail back in slow time), plunges into the controversy.

After stating that the natural victims of the British female (deadly creature that she apparently is), "the young men of London, are away in other parts of Britain or scattered over the empire," Mr. Templin says: "We never saw such openly aggressive females as those who haunted the Savoy—and we speak impartially, not personally, after watching them at work on others. Even the waiters at the Savoy occasionally felt called upon to remonstrate."

Mr. Templin attributes this condition and the "unusually large number of marriages in the Canadian army in England" to two factors. "The first is that the soldiers haven't much to do." "Another factor is loneliness, and there is but one thing Canadian girls back home can do about that—they can send a steady string of letters, parcels, photographs and other reminders of home to their soldier friends overseas."

Well, that diagnosis rules out as a contributing factor the "black-out," which may have occurred to some of our readers as they recalled "Trial by Jury's" lines about, "And a very nice girl you'll find her; she'll very well pass for 43, in the dusk with the light behind her."

THE FARMER'S SUN

Now we are all on fast time! Government members, parliamentarians, and civil servants, starting their strenuous day at Ottawa, at 9 a.m., or at the latest by 9.30, and working on through a long day to 4 p.m. or even 5 (parliamentarians doing additional "sitting" from 8 to 11 p.m. sometimes) will have the grand feeling, as they reach their offices along Wellington St. in the neighborhood of 8, that the country has been awake and working for some hours. Formerly, the Ottawans were worried by the thought that standard time workers who started toil at 7 o'clock had been working only an hour as official Ottawa started its day, and 8 o'clock standard time workers were starting their day at Ottawa's 9 o'clock. But now that will be different, and the civil servant who really has his work under way (or perhaps only under weigh) by 9.30 o'clock will have the satisfaction of knowing at that time that the farmer who starts his day at 5 a.m. has been working for four and a half hours, instead of a mere three and a half.

Yes, sir, now we are all on fast time (except Mr. Sun, who will probably continue to take his usual time to light the stables and to dry the fields).

WHAT OTHERS THINK

CLASS STRUGGLE

(Midland Free Press-Herald)

Mr. Manning went on to predict a vast and critical struggle between the people who save a portion of their earnings and those who spend as they go. It is too often forgotten that the man who lives within his income and puts money in the bank, the man who invests in insurance against his death or old age, is a capitalist. It is his small capital added to the small capital of many others that makes it possible for the wheels of industry to go round and provide wages both for the thrifty and the thriftless. It is those savings which make it possible for the state to levy taxes and care for the unemployed in times of depression. Yet so contrary is the human animal that the man who refuses to save looks upon as his natural enemy the man who does save, and who makes it possible for him to work and earn wages, and who even by the paying of taxes cares for him in days when there is no demand for his labor. He forgets that if the other fellow was not a money saver all would be reduced to the direct poverty.

MR. CARDINAL MAKES A STUPID MISTAKE

BY RUTH DINGMAN HEBB

"Gracious, I do wish that lady would answer her back door!" Merry Chickadee said in worried tones to her mate, Young Chips. "I heard a loud knocking, or shall I say thumping, around on the other side of the house where the kitchen is, but I'm quite sure she hasn't come to the door to answer it." The two little black-capped Chickadees were in a sheltered back garden quite close to the house.

"Let's go around the corner of the house and see who's at the door anyway," suggested Young Chips. The two birds flew over to a spot where they could see the back door and the kitchen window.

"Flying feathers!" gasped Young Chips, after they had gazed at the scene for a minute. "We've caught up with our friend, the Cardinal, again. Look at him right there in that bush close to the kitchen window. I don't see anyone at the door, though."

"Sh, sh, just look at that!" Merry said with bated breath, a second later. The beautiful brilliant red bird dashed angrily at the window, hurling himself against the glass and making a loud thumping sound as he did it.

"I can hardly believe what I see," Young Chips said in amazed tones. "He'll break his neck if he doesn't look out. I wonder if he has gone crazy or what in the world can be the matter?"

"That's what we heard before and thought was someone knocking at the back door of the house," Merry suddenly remarked. "I certainly wouldn't have thought it was a bird knocking against the window pane. Why in the world has he been doing it, I wonder. Oh, now the Cardinal has gone away, so let's go and peek in the window and see if it could possibly be something in the kitchen that was making him mad."

The Chickadees flew cautiously up to the bush outside the window and looked in.

"Why, there's a Chickadee in the window!" Young Chips exclaimed excitedly. Merry went over to join him. "Look, right there. Now there are two Chickadees. What business have they in that lady's kitchen?"

"Why, you idiot!" spluttered Merry immediately after she had looked. "I'm honestly surprised at your dumbness. You're not the only one, though. That's your reflection, and mine, that you see in the glass. I'm honestly astonished that you wouldn't realize that."

"And of course that is what was the matter with Mr. Cardinal," Young Chips chirped loudly, somewhat embarrassed. "He saw another lovely Cardinal gentleman in the window and didn't think he had any business being around here. He probably thought the stranger would try to run off with his mate. And so he simply tried to drive him away by making dashes at him."

"You'd think he'd catch on to himself after he had done it a few times," said Merry. "He must be more stupid than you are, my dear."

"I guess so," agreed Young Chips good-naturedly. "I always thought, however, that of Mr. and Mrs. Cardinal, Mrs. had the more brains of the two, if not the more beauty."

"It's the same way in our own family, except that I have the same looks as you have," retorted Merry quickly. "Don't be ridiculous, my pet," Young Chips chirped firmly. "I'll admit that I slipped a little bit a few minutes ago, but just think of all the stupid things you've done in your day."

"Oh, we won't argue about it," Merry said chuckling. "I'm not worried about you, because you have me to look after you, but I am concerned about that Cardinal. If he goes back there and does that again he may break his neck."

"Perhaps his clever little wifcy will come with him the next time and explain his mistake to him," the gentleman Chickadee suggested. "Or perhaps she won't. Anyway, there isn't much we can do about it, because we don't even know where to find Mr. and Mrs. Cardinal. We can just hope for the best."

"Birds have often killed themselves by beating against windows," Merry went on sadly. "Why I remember a cousin of mine once who . . ."

"Now, now, don't tell me about it," begged Young Chips. "Instead let's go over to the other side of the town and see if we can find some of our pals. You can pick on one of them to tell your cousin's sad story to."

The re-organization of a board of trade in Newmarket is being discussed by the business people as they meet each other and there is a general feeling in its favor. Mayor Eves has been approached on the matter, and he is strongly impressed with the idea as being very necessary for the harmony and development of the town's industries.

The fuel question is getting to be a very serious one for the people of Newmarket. More than 150 people in town are without coal at the present time. Only two carloads of hard coal have come in the last ten days. It seems impossible to even get dry wood. Green wood is at a premium.

MUSIC IS ADAPTABLE

By Isabel Inglis Colville

Of all the arts, music seems to be the one which can be adapted to every mood.

Books meet many needs and moods—we can find those that inspire us to try to achieve great things; books that by their humor restore our balance, when life seems all on the drab side; books that counsel so wisely that we stop and think and maybe make mental readjustments in certain lines of thought—maybe so affecting our whole life materially; books that take the sorrow and sting out of sadness and leave a man ever led an army toward battle, while quoting choice passages of the most inspiring books. For one thing, even if he had breath enough to march and recite "The defence of the bridge against the Tuscan army" or some other stirring saga of heroism, his voice wouldn't carry very far, and lots of the men tramping behind him wouldn't give two straws for any poem, however inspiring.

But let a band strike up a stirring march or one of the songs endeared to us by war, and peace, too—then see stooping shoulders straighten and the marching step become clean cut and firm.

And watch faces, when music begins—there is a certain concentration—a looking back to the time that music had been listened to under peace-time circumstances, and a gathering together of inner forces—courage and patriotism and the thought of dear ones—to face the future and what it may bring—manfully.

Some very wonderful songs have been written about patriotism and war. Our own beautiful "O Canada," if it were even sung as the originally written—"O Canada, our fathers' land of old, Thy brow is crowned with leaves of red and gold"—and compare it with the innate set of words we now use. Then "Land of hope and glory, mother of the free, How can we extol thee, who are born of thee." There'll Always be an England, and "Wings Over the Navy" are products of this war, and although we hope that they will not live to become a part of another war, we can hope they will live on to become peace-time favorites—and a reminder that they were written when England and all it stood for was in deadly peril; "when so many owed so much to so few."

And there are the great hymns that seem like rocks in a tossing sea of fear and chaos—"Oh God our help in ages past," "Unto the hills around do I lift up my longing eyes," "A safe stronghold our God is still," "Lead kindly Light, amid the encircling gloom," "Rock of Ages, cleft for me"—they all speak of a refuge, something to cling to, to look to in time of trouble. Nazism and fascism have taken these hymns from their people—their children do not know the grand old psalms and hymns, the Te Deums and Jubilates, that have accompanied young and old in free countries down the years.

To me, this is one of the greatest sins of the dictators—to rob the youth of its heritage of music—the music that soothes, inspires, teaches and preaches—and replace it with hymns of hate.

The great operas and oratorios can lift one for a little while out of the commonplace into a fairy-land where one can cast off care and live with beauty and come back to reality refreshed and ready to take up whatever lies to one's hand.

As far as I know, there is not one theme in the whole gamut of life's experiences that has not been woven into song, and always there are more songs to come. Italy and Germany at one time produced some of the most wonderful songs, operas and oratorios which were ever written. Now they have lost the art and until their souls, the souls of the Italian and German people—are cleansed from the miasma of hate and distorted vision of which they are now victims—they will not sing again, for the music that stirs the world and gives inspiration and joy must come from nations whose sense of brotherhood and the rights of man exist and where Christianity is not suppressed but encouraged to shed its light over all.

SOLDIER GETS A YEAR FOR VARIED OFFENCES

A 19-year-old soldier, Ralph Charles, Jackson's Point, who is now stationed at the Newmarket military camp, was sentenced by Magistrate W. F. Woodliffe in Newmarket police court on Tuesday, to one year definite plus an indeterminate period, not to exceed six months in the Ontario Reformatory for breaking and entering the Lake Simcoe cottage of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Young, Toronto.

The theft of two Dominion of Canada cheques, each for $3.12, made in favor of Charles B. Meeres, Jackson's Point, he was sentenced to six months definite and six months indefinite in the Ontario Reformatory, this sentence to run concurrently with the former sentence.

The accused man was also given a sentence of six months definite and six months indefinite, to run concurrently with the former sentence, for stealing two Dominion of Canada cheques for $2.37 made in favor of Mrs. Adelaide S. Meeres. A charge of receiving stolen goods was withdrawn with the consent of the crown.

The charges against Charles were reduced from stealing postal letters containing valuable securities, which calls for a minimum penalty of three years in jail, to "stealing cheques."

Leonard Welch, Sutton, a mail carrier on whose route is the mail box of Mr. and Mrs. Meeres near Jackson's Point, testified that the box was situated near the road about a quarter of a mile from the house of Mr. Meeres. He stated that he had delivered two Dominion of Canada envelopes along with other mail at about 11 a.m. on Jan. 29.

When called to the stand, Charles Meeres told his worship that he had not received the cheques, which were for interest on Victory bonds.

"On Jan. 29, at about 3.30 in the afternoon, I came upon the accused, shuffling a ride out the Sutton," testified County Constable William Hill. "From information received from Constable Morton, I took the accused to the military camp in Newmarket. He had a corporal's coat on. He is not a corporal. On searching the accused the two cheques were found in his pocket."

Questions further by Crown Attorney N. L. Matthews, K.C., as to where he had picked up the defendant in his car, the constable replied that it was about two miles west of Mr. Meeres' residence.

When called to the stand, Constable Carl Morton of East Gwillimbury told his worship that he had been with Constable Hill when Charles was searched. He corroborated the statement of the former witness.

The accused man said that he had nothing to say on his own behalf.

Recalled to the stand to give testimony in the charge of breaking and entering, Constable Hill told his worship that on Feb. 2, having received information, he had gone to the cottage owned by N. Young on Lake Shore Road, Lake Simcoe.

"On examining the cottage I found the screen door ripped and the catch lifted," the witness stated. "The storm-door was taken off and the lock picked." The officer said that he was unable to tell if anything had been stolen at the time, but that later, on Feb. 5, Mrs. Young identified a pair of socks, a handkerchief and a wristwatch strap as taken from her cottage.

"About Jan. 30 I went to look at a cottage and it was open," testified George Newton, caretaker for a number of cottages, including that of Mr. Young, on what is called "Hedge Row." "There were tracks to the door. Four or five cottages had been entered. There were tracks from one cottage to another." The witness stated that all the cottages had been entered in the same manner and that he could not say whether anything had been stolen.

Again called to the witness-box to give further evidence in the charge of stealing Dominion of Canada cheques made in favor of Mrs. Adelaide Meeres, Constable William Hill told his worship that they had also been found on the person of the defendant when he was searched at the military camp. He added that the military authorities had been looking for Charles, as he had been absent from camp without leave.

"I allow you suspended sentence of one year on condition that restitution is made and costs paid," Magistrate Woodliffe told Herbert Carr, Schomberg, charged on two counts with fraud. The defendant pleaded guilty to giving a worthless cheque for $10 to Oliver Emmerson in Nobleton on Jan. 21 and two worthless cheques to William T. Hollingshead, one for $3.40 and another for $6.50, in exchange for goods received.

K. M. R. Silver, solicitor for the defendant, told his worship that restitution had already been made by Mr. Carr's son and son-in-law and that the defendant had promised not to sign a cheque again unless he had money in the bank to cover the amount.

"I understand that he has been considerably worried about this," stated Mr. Silver.

"On Jan. 3, the first offence occurred," Magistrate Woodliffe told Mr. Carr. "On Jan. 21 you did it again. You knew perfectly well that you didn't have money in the bank to cover it. That is a silly practice and likely to land you in jail."

Fines of $10 and costs or ten days were imposed on Fred Hollingshead and A. P. Russell, both of East Gwillimbury and each charged with "using a fire-arm to hunt birds or animals without a license to do so."

Game Warden Ernest Prosser told his worship that on Jan. 17 while patrolling in East Gwillimbury, in company with Constable Bule, he saw Mr. Hollingshead hunting. He said that he came upon Mr. Russell on Jan. 10. Asked by Magistrate Woodliffe if he had taken the defendants' guns the officer replied that he had.

Pleading guilty to drinking and swearing in a public place, James Spiroff, Mount Albert, was remanded for sentence on payment of costs of $6.25. A second charge, illegal possession of liquor, brought a fine of $10 and costs of $11.25. In addition the defendant's liquor was ordered confiscated.

Constable Ronald Watt stated that this was the first time that he had known the defendant to get into trouble.

Well, Mr. Green, what do you want to do with your dog?" Magistrate Woodliffe asked John Green, inmate of the York County home, who when he refused to return to the home, was charged with vagrancy in police court last week and remanded in custody until this week.

"Well, there is nothing that I see, I'm not guilty of anything," said Mr. Green. He told his worship that the authorities at the home would not take him back but that he would go to the home of his niece in Toronto. His worship fined Mr. Green $10 and costs or seven days. As the defendant had already spent seven days in jail he was allowed to go free.

Charged with the theft of poultry valued at $21.75, the property of Mrs. Loretta Walls, 5th concession of King, Harry Ungerman, Toronto, restitution having been made, was placed on suspended sentence upon payment of costs of $13.

In her testimony Mrs. Walls, who lives two miles from Kettleby, told his worship that she had had 45 birds. "On Jan. 28 last a truck came up with two men in it," she stated. "I was in the barn. It was some time after four o'clock." The witness identified the defendant as one of the men in the truck.

"Mr. Ungerman came to the barn," she continued. "I was standing on the granary throwing down straw. He asked if my husband was at home and if I had any chickens to sell. I said that I would sell six and no more." The witness went on to say that Mr. Ungerman took 32 chickens and that she objected to him taking them. She said that when the defendant told her that some of the chickens were not good ones she told him that he did not have to take them but that he put them in the crate, which he put into the truck, offering her $7 for them. She said that when she objected he gave her 50 cents more and that she still did not want to sell the fowl. She considered the roosters worth $1.25 apiece and the hens worth $1 each.

Detective William Martindale of the York county police testified that he had investigated the case and located the defendant and his companion, Morris Waser, through their truck. He said that Mr. Ungerman admitted purchasing about 22 chickens from the complainant for $7.50, some of which he had disposed of to Canada Packers, Toronto.

As there was insufficient evidence against Mr. Waser, Magistrate Woodliffe dismissed the charge against him.

In his own defence Mr. Ungerman said that he had told the complainant that he was paying as high as $1 for good hens. "I picked up some of the hens, some were worthless," he stated. "She said to leave a few hens and roosters to eat. I showed her every one I put into the crate." The defendant told his worship that there were about 22 birds in the lot, and that about eight of these alone were good for dressing. For these he received just over $6. He said that he sold 81 pounds of the remaining birds at nine cents a pound.

"On the evidence this morning you got more hens than you told me you got," the magistrate told Mr. Ungerman. "I certainly do not approve of your business methods. I think you were taking advantage of this woman, her husband being away. She told you to take six hens and you took 32 more." The police say that they never had trouble with this man before. The crown informed his worship. "On occasion he has isolated the police in getting stolen goods back." He added that he would consent to a suspended sentence.

Magistrate Woodliffe said that he would take into consideration the defendant's previous good record in passing sentence.

His worship adjourned for another week the cases of Percy Hill, Nobleton, charged with having stolen "illegally house," Lynn Raine, Burlington, and Norman Hillson, Milton Heights, charged with "conducting an illegal contrivance."

SOLDIERS' CLUB

By GOLDEN GLOW

The citizens of Newmarket have every reason to congratulate themselves on the splendid accomplishment of the committee who were in charge of creating and establishing a Soldiers' Club in the downtown area.

There was a distinct need of a place where the boys from our military camp could go for recreation and diversion, apart from dance halls or restaurants or the Strand. While these all serve their purpose, they cannot very well be indulged in seven days a week—and in consequence a good many boys from camp wandered up and down the street with no place to go, or went off in their own or someone else's car to Toronto or Aurora or Bradford, or still farther afield.

I need hardly go into details of how the committee was formed, or who formed it—what I want to tell about is what they have accomplished, and I hope nobody will take offence when I say that it has been done mostly to the women on that same committee—due to their arduous endeavor to create a place that would appeal to the soldier and make him glad and eager to go there.

Let me tell you they have succeeded far beyond their expectations, for a more popular place with the soldier-boys would be hard to find! It has not been accomplished without a good deal of hard work and much time spent by the whole executive, both men and women, but the bulk of the work now rests on the shoulders of those devoted women of the executive committee to keep it running smoothly and satisfactorily. It is now an accomplished fact and I shall endeavor to tell my readers, some of whom may not be in a position to go and see for themselves, just what a transformation has taken place in the lower half of the Oddfellows' hall.

In the first place they hope it proves to be permanent, so that when the war is over and our boys return from overseas and home defence, this club will be well established so that they can just drop in and be at home there as soon as they get back. So you can see it justifies itself already—the committee is already preparing ahead for the need for just such a place for returned men! And such a grand place! I do not mean grand in the sense of magnificent, or anything like that, but so eminently suitable and comfortable, and so altogether exactly what the boys from camp wanted.

As you enter you see them—and hear them—and you realize that here in the warmth and comfort of the Soldiers' Club they can relax for a few hours and enjoy themselves in whatever way appeals to them. A piano is there near the furnace and there is always a merry crowd round it, and we have plenty who love to play for those who like to sing (and I assure you there are a good many). There are easy chairs and comfortable tables with bridge and euchre cards, cribbage boards, checkers, croquinoles and Chinese checkers, even chess for those who can play that grand old game. There is a table-tennis board, a huge rack full of magazines of every sort, with plenty of easy chairs, and lights, and tables at the far side of the furnace. Then quite separate, in the south-east corner, is the reading and writing room, where there is also a radio, and writing-tables, with pen and ink and writing-paper and envelopes, make it easy for the men to "write that letter home."

There is also a book-case of interesting books, with plenty of easy chairs and stand-lamps for those who prefer to read, and a cozy little electric heater to assure plenty of warmth these frosty evenings.

And above all else the canteen, with the smiling, cheerful attendants, who serve the boys coffee and pie and sandwiches and everything else needed. And if you want to see something pretty nice you should see that canteen kitchen. It's up-to-date and delightfully home-like, with its electrical equipment and gingham curtains!

I was commissioned to ask different boys what their reaction was on the occasion of their first visit, so that we could see if they offered any suggestions that might be helpful in running the club. But while all were loud in their praise of everything provided for them, they had only one—and a big one—fault to find—it didn't open early enough to suit them. They wanted it to open an hour earlier! It was "late," it was "T-High," it was the "cent's whiskers"—but "why can't we get in till seven o'clock?"

I painstakingly explained that the help was all voluntary help given by those who found it had enough to get there by seven o'clock—by helpers who must themselves get home from work, have their tea and hurry down, or by someone who had to get tea for her household before she could come.

One chap said it would be a lot nicer if the girls were there too—I just froze and turned him on my heel, for he'd just been telling me about his wife a moment before! But for the benefit of those interested in a properly run and properly chaperoned place, I may add that every Friday evening is to be

"party night," when the executive committee intend to ask a certain number of young women to help entertain the boys. Last Friday was the first occasion of a try-out and it was a success all round, so it may become a weekly feature from now on. But it must be by invitation from the executive.

And it should also be distinctly understood that the camp has been to it that there shall be "no boys" here so that the rules are strictly adhered to by the boys from camp! I think Newmarket has every reason to be proud of its Soldiers' Club.

But one thing I just can't understand, and that is why on earth don't the soldier-boys take off their hats—they can keep them under their shoulder-straps if they do not want to hang them up. We have tried to make a home-like atmosphere for them, but we are used to our menfolk taking off their hats in the house. If there is any reason for the contrary, please someone tell me!

In Memoriam

Brodie - In loving memory of my late husband, Herman Brodie, who passed away Feb. 9, 1941, aged 58 years.

A wonderful mother, woman and wife.

One who was better, God never made.

A wonderful worker, so loyal and true.

One in a million, that Mother, was you.

Just in your judgment, always right.

Honest and liberal, ever upright.

Loved by your friends, and all whom you knew.

A wonderful mother, that Mother, was you.

Ever remembered by Elizabeth Brodie.

Rahmer - In loving memory of my dear husband, Herman Rahmer, who passed away Feb. 10, 1938.

Through a long lane of shadows I am wandering alone,

But a hand keeps gently guiding me

Through the world unknown;

A voice keeps ever whispering, the brave and the true.

I'll be waiting there for you.

At the end of the lane of shadows Lovingly remembered by his wife.

Rahmer - In ever loving memory of a dear father, Herman Rahmer, who departed this life Feb. 10, 1938.

When the toll of day is over

And my thoughts are settled down,

There is one thought that never leaves me

Of my dear dad who is gone.

Though his smile has gone forever,

And his hand I cannot touch,

I shall never lose sweet memories

Of a dad I loved so much.

Sadly missed by his daughter and son-in-law, Lena and Harold.

York Holstein Men
Review Work Of Year

The annual meeting of the York County Holstein club held in the Masonic Hall, Richmond Hill, on Jan. 28, brought out the largest attendance of members for the morning session in the history of the club.

The morning program, presided over by President Roy Barker of Woodbridge, included registration and presentation of reports by the secretary-treasurer and county salesman and the appointment of a nominating committee.

Treasurer Frank Ramsay of Sharon reported a slight increase in the balance, in spite of a small drop in memberships. Jos. Darlington, club salesman, reported the largest sales in the history of the club, with a large part of these going for export.

With lunch provided by the club, the members enjoyed a social hour at noon, when the directors did the honors with the coffee pots and lunch baskets.

The election of directors was held in the afternoon and C. D. Graham of Brantford, director of the Ontario Field Services for the parent association, discussed the work of the Canadian Association and presented a technical film showing Holstein herds in the various provinces and some of the prize-winners at the C.N.E.

Prof. Geo. E. Rothby of the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, discussed some of the disease problems of the dairyman, particularly herd hygiene, where treatment lies in the field of the veterinarian. The speaker then answered questions put to him by the members.

Jos. Darlington, having withdrawn his nomination on account of being salesman for the club, the following directors were elected: Cameron Boske, Downsview; Ray Clarkson, Weston; Archie Cameron, Woodbridge; Rankin Kellam, Weston; Roy Livingston, Woodbridge; Geo. W. Henry, Orillia; David McKie, King; E. F. Ramsay, Sharon; Earl Rischbrogh, Woodbridge; Russell Snider, Nobleton; Lloyd Turner, Stouffville; J. S. Watson, Woodbridge; S. B. Watson, Agincourt; Ed. Whittaker, Downsview; Geo. C. Jackson, Downsview; Roy Barker, Woodbridge; and unless otherwise advised, Jos. Darlington, Tadmorden.

Geo. C. Jackson as vice-president of the Canadian Association and Past President Roy Barker are by virtue of their offices also directors of the club.

At the directors' meeting which followed, these officers were elected: hon. pres., Roy Barker; president, Archie Cameron; vice-president, Roy Livingston; secretary, E. F. Ramsay; auditor, W. M. Cockburn; salesman, Jos. Darlington.

COURSE OFFERS 2 DAYS ON FARM MANAGEMENT

One of the most interesting farm short courses ever offered to the farmers of York county will be staged in Richmond Hill municipal hall next Tuesday and Wednesday, when Agricultural Representative W. M. Cockburn has arranged for H. R. Hare, senior assistant agricultural economist of the Dominion Marketing Service at Ottawa, to present a series of discussions on farm management.

Mr. Hare supervised the milk cost records work of many district milk producers a couple of years ago.

Mr. Hare will be assisted by R. M. Miller, Markham, R. R. 3, dairy farmer of Scarborough township, who recently completed a post graduate course in farm economics at Cornell University, Ithaca, N.Y. As every-one is now officially on "fast time" the lectures will not commence till 10 a.m. D.S.T.

As the subjects to be discussed have a bearing on each other it is hoped as many as possible will plan to attend for the entire two days.

Meals may be obtained in the village or farmers may bring lunch and visit during the noon hour. There is no charge of any kind for the course and this is one of only 14 being held throughout the entire province.

Economize on gas and tires by bringing a full car. Those who come might also wish to have a book and pencil to take some notes.

LOCALS LOSE
SECOND GAME
TO MARKHAM

In a ding-dong battle that had the fans hanging on to their seats Markham Generals evened the series with Aurora last night by scoring a 5-4 win at Unionville.

Aurora were outlucked on the night as they kicked two goals into their own cage, but Markham deserve credit for their fight. Hap. Collins, goalie for DeHaviland Aircraft, filled the Markham nets and made a good job of things in his first start. An injury to Turnbull hindered the Aurora attack just when it was hottest.

The two teams clash again at Aurora on Friday.

The Aurora boys returned home confident of victory tomorrow night and determined to demonstrate their superiority on local ice.

Three star awards go to Calhoun with three tallies, Hap. Collins, who stopped the proverbial million in the Markham nets, and George Stark.

STORM STOPS SUNDAY SERVICES, KEEPS MEN FROM WAR WORK; SLEIGHS, SNOWSHOES USED

The week-end storm created traffic conditions in Aurora and district not experienced in many years.

Many cars were stuck and unable to reach their garages, while delivery from the stores was a precarious feat Saturday night.

Aurora garagemen worked overtime to aid motorists and Gordon Stout of Stout's garage reported that at least 75 trips were made in two days with his tow-truck.

Country roads east and west were practically all blocked. Only one of the King buses reached Aurora high school on Monday and about 50 pupils enjoyed an enforced holiday from studies.

One Aurora doctor answered a call to Vaudorj via Newmarket and the fourth concession. No services were held at Wesley or Mount Pleasant churches by Rev. W. A. Westcott, while Rev. W. J. Burton of Kettleby was not able to hold Sunday services at two of his charges.

Two Aurora young ladies and their companions were stranded about two miles west of Bradford on highway 88. Snowbound, they left the car engine running and received a mild dose of carbon monoxide, forcing them to take refuge at the farmhouse of Harry Williams, where they were treated by Dr. B. L. Sinclair of Bradford.

None suffered ill effects, but it was not until Monday that they were able to proceed on their way.

The party included Misses Iona Cousins and Pauline McKenzie of Aurora and Phil-Officers John Perry and J. D. Lindsay of Trenton.

Many of the employees of Aurora stores and factories, who live outside the town, were unable to reach their work on Monday and DeHaviland plants were unable to reach their employment.

Buses were late and horses and cutters made their first appearance in town for several years and in Whitchurch township Sunday callers in some instances went on snowshoes.

Snow-plows suffered a breakdown on Sunday on the third concession of King, but continued to do their work all through the night. Town employees did a splendid job of clearing drifts in the town.

Markham executives blamed the snowdrifts for the late arrival of the majority of the players on Monday night for the hockey game and said all cars had left in plenty of time to reach here by 8:30 p.m.

Aurora Girl Joins Auxiliary Air Force

At the Bond Lake curve the drive-shift on her car slipped and the car struck a tree. The car was almost completely wrecked and Miss Grainger was treated by Dr. James Urquhart. Highway Traffic Officer Alex. Ferguson investigated.

Pive hundred and forty-nine days were lost, 42 1/2 of which were through illness, 29 through helping at home, 78 through parental neglect, six and a half through physical obstacles, half a day because of truancy and 13 1/2 days because of other reasons. This was the lowest absentee list because of illness since the month of September.

AURORANS WIN BATTLE WITH MARKHAM 7-3

Displaying a brand of hockey and courage that could not be denied, Aurora juniors edged Markham Generals all the way to win the first game of the group playoffs 7-3 on Monday evening.

Markham went down fighting and when they came here tomorrow night for the third game they will go all out to win.

The Aurora executive have complained to the O.H.A. regarding the late hours at which Markham arrives. On Monday night the game did not get under way until 8:30 and the fans were a bit tired of waiting around in the cold. The O.H.A. have promised action in the matter.

Aurora struck fast in the first period. Myles MacIntosh playing the greatest hockey of his career, broke up a Markham attack at the Aurora blue-line and, using Ed. Beaumont as a decoy, the big fellow coasted around Sabiston to coolly kick the upper right corner, back of Bowdway. Fifty-five seconds later Ken. Nash passed out from behind the Generals' net and Capt. Ross Turnbull banged home the disc.

Hamilton and Bowdway both made sensational stops. Markham drew the first penalty of the game for charging Capra and while he was off Markham were hard pressed. Doug. McLeod of the visitors got a roughing ticket 18:45 and on a gangling attack Bruce Stephens took Nash's pass and, with Bangay draped on his neck, scored a pretty goal.

Although they did not score in the first ten minutes of the second session Aurora gave one of their most offensive displays of the season. At 12:55 Calhoun shot from about ten feet out and Hamilton stopped the puck. Nick Bangay was parked in the crease and kicked the puck into the net. In the scramble the net lifted and the puck came out. Referee Pat. Patterson admitted the goal had been kicked in but said it was "unintentional" and accordingly would not count. This remark spurred on the Rowntree clan and Det. Beaumont scored twice in a row. The first, probably the prettiest of the night, came at 14:53, with Harold Capra setting-up the play. The second was at 19:20, MacIntosh supplying the pass.

Temper flared in the third period as Markham, obviously irked by the Aurora success, began to lay out the hockey. MacIntosh again staged a sensational thrust on the Markham attack. "Glimp" snared the puck from McLeod and barged his way close in on Bowdway to blast a bullet drive into a lower corner. Rowe went off for roughing Capra and only quick work by Conch Rowntree kept the infuriated Capra from retaliating. From a face-off in Markham territory MacIntosh and another goal resulted.

McLeod and Stark tangled at 14:45 as spirits mounted higher and both boys drew major parking tickets. They had to be restrained from further action on the bench. Markham now put on the pressure and Aurora, trying a bit, let them carry the battle to them. Don. Hamilton rose to great heights as he coolly relieved the pressure.

Watson was rarely swayed as he took Rowe's pass and scored. At 18:35 Rowe got the last counter of the game. He broke away at centre and Turnbull fell from exhaustion, allowing him to breeze right in on Hamilton.

The three star awards will all go to Aurora. Myles MacIntosh gets the first spot. He played the entire 60 minutes, checked hard and tallied three goals and got an assist for a fine night's work. Det. Beaumont, who has yet to turn in a disappointing game, was flying all night and took plenty of punishment, keeping his temper and snaggling two goals. Don. Hamilton turned in a masterful goal chore and with any luck would have had a shut-out. Deserving mention, too, are Bangay, Broughton, and in fact the whole team. Rowntree, Calhoun and Bowdway were the leading Markham trio.

Markham: goal, Bowdway; defence, Sabiston and Bangay; centre, Rowe; wings, Watson and MacIntosh; subs, Calhoun, Haynes, Northcote, Patterson, McLeod.

Aurora: goal, Hamilton; defence, MacIntosh and Turnbull; centre, Broughton; wings, Capra and Beaumont; subs, Bibrrough, Turnbull, Nash, Stark, Stephens and Hughes.

RESIDED IN AURORA OVER FORTY YEARS

The funeral took place on Friday at the funeral home of P. M. Thompson of Miss Lachlan Jane Cairns of Newmarket.

Miss Cairn, who had been in poor health for the past year, died at York county hospital, Newmarket.

She was born at Kinghorn and resided with her parents for many years on the farm at Temperanceville now occupied by T. H. Roadhouse.

Following the death of her father, John Cairn, over 40 years ago, Miss Cairn and her mother moved to Aurora. Her mother died eight years ago.

She was a member of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church and for many years was active in church work. Rev. S. W. Hird was in charge of the service and interment was at Aurora cemetery.

NAMED TO BOARD

Rev. Dr. G. Stanley Russell, pastor of Deer Park United church, has been appointed to the board of governors of St. Andrew's College, Hamilton.

Public School Battles First Form To 3-All

Aurora public school seniors and Aurora high school first formers battled to a three-all tie at Aurora arena on Thursday afternoon.

Howard Case tallied twice for the senior school and Eric Bibrrough gathered a goal and an assist. Theo. "Tiddles" Sutton netted all three public school goals to give his team at one time a two-goal lead. Eric Smith in the high school nets saved his team on many occasions. Delroy Linbeck was referee.

Let form: goal, Smith; defence, Bibrrough and Gilbert; forwards, Case, Cameron and McNaught; subs, Nesbitt, Hulse, "Mikey" Sutton.

A.P.S.: goal, DoLaIna and Harrison; defence, Rank and Lawson; forwards, Brodie, Sutton, Mandell, Longman, Pugh, Watson, McGeorge, Walker, Hyman and Cousins.

BASKETBALL DEFEAT RICHMOND HILLERS 27-7

The Aurora high school junior basketball team clinched the inter-high school title on Monday as they defeated Richmond Hill at Richmond Hill high school 27-7. It was their third straight win. At Stephenson and Earl Ross led the Aurora attack, getting 17 points between them. Aurora led 10-4 at the half, but after that it was a walkway.

Aurora: guards, Bill Hulsecock, A. Stephenson (9); forwards, Earl Rose (8), "Whitby" Jones (4), Bill Gilkes (4); subs, Gar. Doolittle, George King, Pete King (4).

R.H.H.S.: guards, Bennett and Lake (1); forwards, Ross (9), Upson, Moore; subs, Neal and Graham.

After hearing representations made by Dr. G. W. Williams, M.O.H., and ex-Mayor P. M. ## DOWN THE CENTRE

Frank Michalski, the old left-hander of championship Aurora C team and erstwhile Sutton Green-shirt, spent a couple of days in Aurora last week on holidays. Frankie has resigned his job and is expecting to receive his call from the R.C.A.F. to whom he proffered his services some months past. "Mitch," of Ukrainian descent, was one of the most popular "imports" ever to hit these parts and was a softballer of more than passing mention. We are glad to report this for some of those persons who have said before Frankie didn't have it in him. We know Frank and we know he will do a good job.

"Pepper" Martin is now a member of Mike Rodden's Belleville senior B team and in two games he has picked up five scoring points as his team came out of the doldrums to chalk up two wins. Seems as how Coach Wally Elmer of Kingston seniors soured on all the college players of last year except Williamson and didn't give Martin a chance. The big kid intended to play intermediate A but jumped at the chance, along with Grisdale, Johnny Hamilton and others, to play regularly when they had the chance. How the O.H.A. could reconcile the matter after Feb. 1, the last date for signing players, and could revert to those in the league and the other teams in the league are really howling in high C, to no avail. Martin will find old friends in the league. Red Jennett of Barrie Colts of the same vintage is a teammate. With the R.C.A.F. fliers are Joe Tunney, Martin's goalie pal, Bob Dixon, Barry and McBrien of Oshawa. Sydney, too, has several former Oshawa B's. "Pepper" has not been forgotten by the pros either, in case you think so.

Gravenhurst Indians, who are cutting quite a dash in intermediate A circles, especially for Sutton, now can attribute their march of recent weeks to some of their new players. Ran Forder we mentioned before, but the club has enticed the veteran Fred Barnes back into business and from Parry Sound have obtained Fred James and Knapp. We don't know anything about Knapp, but we do know that James last year played senior hockey with Montreal Canadiens in the Quebec senior loop. You can mark it down that Gravenhurst will be tough to take.

Schirtz, the big Milton defenceman whom you have seen before and can see in the play-offs, is getting a good deal of attention right now. Schirtz has a regular Charlie Conacher shot and we think he is the best defenceman in the local junior group. For instance, offensively Schirtz has to his credit no less than nine goals and five assists. Fourteen points is high for a defenceman and Frank Selke has had his Maple Leaf scouts out to have a look-see. He is the player most feared by Etobicoke and they have good reason to think so, because in that 8-5 Milton win over the Cobles, Schirtz got five scoring points.

Jack Marks, the hurler for Uxbridge away back in the early York-Simcoe hardball days against Dooley Butler and his mates, is on active service and over in England with an artillery unit now.

Aurora badminton club, which has not had a very successful season to date, is determined to wind up the season with a bang and is planning a big dance on March 17. The proceeds will go to the Red Cross.

Bill Wilson has reported back for duty with Hollinger Greenhills and just in time too. The green hills were just figuring somebody else was ahead when back pops Willie to sink home two scoring points and the for top honors. Back in his regular stride he should distance the field.

Gurf, Dunkin stepped up to intermediate for Markham last week and the Sunderland boy made good in a big way. But the O.H.A. rule book allows only one game, so this will be Dunkin's last appearance until after Markham juniors are pushed out. Ronnie Rowe, Nick Banay and others would be pretty hard to keep out of intermediate company too.

Paul Paquette, who was a star with Barrie in B a few years back, is now down at Debert camp with an artillery unit. There's one French-Canadian lad who is doing his bit.

Collingwood is trying to lure Lloyd Finkbeiner, former Quisp Junior and Springfield pro, to an already star-studded line-up. Finkbeiner is at Camp Borden with the tank corps and may be one of those fellows who will battle against Newmarket at Camp at Ravina in the army championships this month. Don Jeffrey, one of the old Collingwood stand-bys, has turned out with the shipbuilders.

Billy Hainsworth, who guarded

the nets for Waterloo Skikins the year they put the skids under the local junior Tigers, has joined the R.C.A.F. and is stationed at Toronto. Billy went to Oshawa last year but couldn't regain his form of the year previous and this year went back home. He played some hockey there but left this month for active service. He will guard the nets for one of the R.C.A.F. teams. At one time it appeared Billy was well on his way to reach the heights attained by his father, the great George Hainsworth. His sight, however, wouldn't allow him to do it.

Charlie Rowntree told us the other day that Humber Summit, who have returned to the hockey wars, were the first team he ever coached. It was a church league entry and Charlie did such a good job that Woodbridge asked him to coach their juvenile T.H.L. entry. Two years later he wound up with a championship team for Woodbridge and was ready for bigger things. He is keen to repeat his triumphs of other years again this season and, if he can keep his boys playing consistently, has a good chance too. A lot depends on how Don Hamilton goes. Without being critical of either Don or Charlie there are times this season when Frankie Hughes might well have been given a chance in the nets. The young lad showed much promise in early season and such good marksmen as the Etobicoke Indians only beat him by one goal.

The group mix-up was finally settled by the O.H.A. last week too late to publish. Jimmy Young was struck from the Markham list of eligible players and Markham was not penalized in any way, except losing services. The O.H.A. said it was a mistake in the interpretation of the rules by Markham. (Did we hear you say, Oh yeah?) and so their league wins and losses were allowed to stand. It is a curious ruling, to say the least. Most teams might well have been tossed out of competition but the point that is curious is how Markham was allowed to have Young's certificate passed in the first place.

Oakville, down in the red over the season, was given a chance to get back in the race again although as it turned out they only had to win one game to do it. The O.H.A. ruled that if they beat or tied Markham in Oakville last Friday they would be allowed to meet the survivors of the other four in the group finals. That is bonusing a team in a big way. Oakville, with their backs to the wall, came through with a 7-5 win, but an injury to Markham's goalie, Bowdway, paved the way. With the score tied, the deaf and dumb lad came out and was knocked unconscious by a kick from a skate. The game was held up, but with no spare netminder available, Skippy Northcote, fiery forward, went into the nets and while he stopped a few he did let in the winning goals.

Aurora and Milton, with the approval of the O.H.A., arranged their series not visualizing an Oakville win. Saturday morning the plans were upset as the 7-5 win for Oakville tied Milton and Markham on points with eight each.

Goals against gave Milton third place and shoved Markham into the fourth slot. Milton ended the season with 45 goals slipped past Evans, while Young and Bowdway allowed 50 goals to be scored between them, 22 of which were scored against Bowdway in three games. So it is Markham and Aurora, and Milton and Etobicoke, in the group semi-finals. Following their 6-4 win against Etobicoke, their second of the season, Milton are now convinced they can trim Etobicoke and win the honors.

Etobicoke was minus Allen and several other players and Murray Scruton told us on Friday, with the group first place clinched, they didn't take any chances on further injuries. Coach Maxie Hackett of the Indians raised his first game of the season too, being detained by business at Toronto city hall. It wouldn't surprise us to see Oakville pick up all the marbles in the end, in which case you can watch out for plenty of howls. Billy Towns of Hamilton refereed the Etobicoke game in Milton and the Cobles say he gave a four-star performance of home-town refereeing. It is not likely to see action in the group again.

The whole mix-up has served one useful purpose, if no other. The fans around the circuit are all worked up on behalf of their respective teams and one of the hottest series in years seems in the offing before it is all over.

Markham in fourth place had the best scoring record, netting a total of 62 goals. Aurora were second with 53 counters, while the first-place Indians scored 47 goals, but Harry Nash had the best defensive record, only 38 goals getting past him. He scored the only shut-out of the group too. Aurora netminders placed their team in the runner-up spot in this department, too, with 41 goals against the locals. Aurora was the team runner-up in the group all the way around.

Joint McComb continues to lead the northern intermediate group in the scoring race, with a total of 31 points in games to Monday of this week. We have taken the newspaper figures and when we weren't sure or hadn't these available we were allowed access to the O.H.A. referee's reports in the office of Secretary Bill Hewitt. So our figures, in case you're wondering about them, are as accurate as it is possible to have them now. McComb has banded home no less than 18 goals and 13 assists.

Greg Kirby of Collingwood is in second place with a total of 28 points. Kirby, who hails from Barrie and has seen service with Atlantic City, has only ten goals but has stacked up no less than 18 assists, to lead the assists branch of the records with ease. Dick Scott, Kirby's linemate and a former teammate at Barrie, is in third place with 26 points, while Matt Kelley, from Glace Bay, N.S., the third member of Collingwood's big line, has 24 points. That is a scoring total of 78 points for the trio, which pretty well accounts for Collingwood's present standing.

Jack Culverwell, tied with Kelley at 24 points for the third position. Jack has 14 goals and ten assists. After these five the points drop sharply. Hee, McNeil, the Orillia boy with Gravenhurst, and Barney Wichman are Gravenhurst's best sharpshooters, while Sib, Brodeur, Jack O'Hearn and Jimmy Stewart are Midland's best scorers.

Sutton Greenhills rank as follows: McComb 31 points, Culverwell 24, Syd, Shephard 17, Crozier 2, Burkholder 3, Brandon 5, Gibney 7, Schmidt 2, Roberts 4, Diplock 5, Harris 2, Mabey 1, Gibby 2, and Ellis Fringle 9 points. Fringle, who is playing splendid hockey this year, is the leading defenceman in the group on the score-sheets and defensively ranks pretty high too.

Markham high school is leading the southern high school loop by a wide margin over Stouffville and Scarboro. Jack Watson of Markham juniors, one of the best forwards in the group, is their leading player. Locally there is practically no action in hockey at the high school, which is, perhaps, one reason why there are so few local boys coming on for junior hockey.

Richmond Hill curlers had two rinks reach the semi-finals in the provincial curling tournament but lost out to Gravenhurst. There are over 40 men curling at the Hill this year and having plenty of fun too. The group includes not only old-timers but fellows in the twenties and thirties. Stouffville is another centre where the old Scotch game still flourishes. Jimmy Young and Albert Glass skipped the Hill rinks and are planning another try at further honors this season.

St. Andrew's college stands no chance of winning the prep school group this year, as only the first two teams play off for honors and that will be U.T.S. and DeLaSalle. The Andreans, however, considering everything, have made a splendid showing—better than even their staunchest supporters thought they would make, and next season may be a different story. The college boys have shown all kinds of fight and have yet to rough up proceedings, more than we can say for their opponents.

Joe Cherry, the Gormley boy who attends Upper Canada, is playing for Joe Primeau's second squad and doing nicely too. He is ready for drafting to higher company right now and Primeau is including him in his rebuilding plans for next season. "Chick" Webster, the senior player who is at Newmarket camp, has played both for St. Catharines and for the camp team too, both in the same week. We presume the O.H.A. ruling is that a player drafted to a military centre can play for both the camp and his own club. In case Webster is on St. Kitt's in the play-offs you can look out for squalls if somebody loses out.

Wilkie Fleury, Aurora boy overseas, had his Christmas dinner with Grace Fields' sister and her family. Wilkie, a corporal, along with several other lads, was invited out by families in the district and the Aurora boy drew one of the prized spots. He didn't go empty-handed to his hostess' table, for his aunt, Mrs. Rob Stephens, in Pointe, Saskatchewan, had canned one of those big western turkeys and sent it overseas. With the turkey along with him and it was one of the features of the yuletide meal. There is not much hockey overseas this year, Wilkie reports, as the troops are too busy except to play unofficial practice games.

Elizabeth Snively of Lake Wilcox, one of the top-ranking women skaters in Canada, was a member of the Toronto ski club foursome who competed in the big meet at the Selkirk club over the weekend. The Toronto skiers were runners-up and Miss Snively had the best time and best performance in the slalom runs. Her time was 1:20.3, which equaled her performance of last year and topped the list. She is the daughter of Col. and Mrs. Schuyler Snively.

Chas. Martin, the big defenceman with Waterloo Skikins two years ago, who we thought, with many others was no better than Paul Paquette of Barrie, "Pepper" Martin and Jack Curtis of the local club and several others, has touched the big light at last as a member of Boston Bruins, and in his first start came through with flying colors. The Skikins will get a nice piece of change out of the deal too.

Parry Sound, who are awaiting southern winners, recently played a game with North Bay Trappers, losing out 8-3. Little is known about the Sounders but with the whole north country, and a large group of employees at Nobel to choose from, they should be pretty good. It has been suggested that Oakville play them, which isn't such a bad idea for either club. February will be almost gone before the local group is decided, unless several surprises occur. With only two other group winners besides Parry Sound in the C race, this group can afford to take its time. In other years the local winner has had the long trips to make. This year there aren't so many trips outside of the group but they all will be long. Parry Sound and Milton are two centres that have yet to win a junior title despite years of trying. They will be two teams to watch too.

TEMPERANCEVILLE Farm Forums Discuss "Buying Together"

Farm radio forums discussed "Buying Together," when they met on Feb. 2.

The north group met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Scott Bovair, with Ewart Jennings in charge of the recreation period.

Chas. Henshaw, who is spending an enforced holiday because of a broken arm, was leader of the discussion. The group listed the following reasons for the failure of co-operatives: inefficient management, too rapid expansion without sufficient capital, lack of education and indifference on the part of members.

To be successful, any co-operative should follow the principles laid down by the Rochdale pioneers, the group thought. These principles are: open membership, one member one vote, a limited rate of interest on capital, patronage dividends and education.

The forum did not look upon co-operation as a cure-all for the farmer's problems. Such problems as lack of labor and low income can only be partially relieved by co-operation.

In the study of various health schemes, the groups concluded that the municipal doctor system compared very favorably with all other schemes, since its low cost makes it available to all.

and since it stresses the prevention of illness.

The south forum met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Paxton with Mr. Paxton convening the discussion and Millie Umehara conducting the recreation.

With daylight saving becoming general all over Canada, the time of the farm forum broadcast has been changed to 8.30 p.m., E.D. S.T., on Monday evenings. This should not be a drawback to any forum and will be welcomed by those members who are already on daylight saving time.

The Spirit of The Pioneer Mother Flames Anew Today

THINK BACK to the old days—when Canada was young.

Think of the high courage, the indomitable will of those pioneer women. Within the stockade or in the open field, they toiled—yes, fought—by the side of their men for the safeguarding of everything they held dear.

In the hearts of the women of Canada, this old spirit flames anew today! Gone are the heavy muskets, the log barricades—but the love of freedom, the stubborn resolve to win through at all costs—these things remain unchanged, unchangeable!

Grimly quenching their tears, mothers say "God bless you" to their fighting sons—everywhere young women are serving where duty calls—the women of Canada are bound together in one common cause.

In thousands of Canadian homes, women are revising their family budgets, planning new economies, making extra sacrifices—so that more and more money will be available for the purchase of Victory Bonds.

They know—these women of Canada—that every dollar loaned now means more tanks—more guns—more planes—more ships—more of everything which is needed to smash Hitlerism and bring Peace to all the family hearths of the world.

KESWICK
Keswick Girls Mark
Special C.G.I.T. Week

A most successful United church Women's Association supper was held on Thursday.
In the afternoon a meeting of the Women's Association was held. Mrs. Francis Morton led the devotional exercises. Mrs.
Gordon Lapp read the scripture lesson and gave an explanation.
Mrs. Vaughan read an appropriate hymn. Reports of the Centre Presbytery convention were given by the delegates.
Later a delicious hot supper was served to an unusually large crowd. A great many of the guests had come from a distance.

The program opened with the singing of "God Save the King."
The younger entertainers on the program were June Prosser, Donny McGonerty, Lorne Main-prize, who gave recitations, and Jim and Ruth Stiles, who sang a duet.

Mr. Parks of Wilfrid gave a humorous reading and Misses Evelyn and Shirley Rye gave an instrumental duet.

Mrs. Ernest Morton gave a reading, Miss Evelyn King and Walter Walker gave solos. All the numbers were well given and much appreciated.

A mid-week prayer service will be held in the United church on Tuesday evening at 9 o'clock. This will be the last of the series of four meetings.

The Sunday morning service at the United church will be held at 12 a.m. and the evening service at 8 p.m. The church school will meet at 11 a.m.

At next Sunday morning's service the subject of Rev. Gordon Lapp's sermon will be "Upon this Rock." At the evening service the girls from the Canadian Girls in Training and the boys from the corresponding Sunday-school classes will assist with the service.

The girls of the C.G.I.T. at the beginning of C.G.I.T. week on Sunday, took charge of the worship service at the church school of the United church. The girls were middies and skirts, the uniform of the C.G.I.T. and led a very impressive service.

The Keswick service marking the world's day of prayer will be held on Friday afternoon, Feb.
20, in the United church. This is a joint service under the auspices of the United church and the Christian church Women's Missionary Societies. Mrs. Gordon Lapp is key woman for Keswick and is arranging the service with the assistance of Mrs. Lunn. All women are urged to attend this important service.

BELHAVEN

Mrs. Lorne Holborn has been spending a few days with her aunt in Newmarket.

Quite a number of ladies met at the home of Mrs. Emerson Sheppard last Tuesday to do sewing for the Red Cross.

Owing to the heavy fall of snow, followed by wind, a number of people were unable to get to church on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fergus Lockie visited in Zephyr one day last week.

Those putting in their ice report it to be of good quality.
Last Tuesday morning was the coldest spell this winter, the thermometer dropping to 25 degrees below zero.

The regular monthly meeting of the Belhaven Women's Institute will be held at the home of Mrs. Bowles on Tuesday at 2:30 p.m. All those having tickets on the quilt are asked to bring them to the meeting or have them handed in by that date, as the lucky ticket will be drawn that day.

Belhaven, Feb. 5. — The two sewing days for the Red Cross, held in the Belhaven hall, had an attendance of 52 on Wednesday and 50 ladies on Thursday.
Thirteen quilts were made, besides other garments. The regular meetings will be held each month throughout the winter and a tea is being planned in connection with one of the meetings in February.

Mr. Walker Prosser was able to be out and around on Monday, though the weather was very cold. He reports that his wife is also well.

The regular monthly supper of the Keswick Christian church will be held next Wednesday.
Everyone is welcome.

Owing to the heavy snowstorm over the weekend, Rev. R. Serrheld as usual.

MOVIES

Adding to her wide variety of screen characterizations which have been responsible for her widespread popularity over so many years, Anne Shirley plays a glamorous caterer in "Four Jacks and a Jill," coming to the Strand theatre on Friday and Saturday.

Teamed with the dancing star,
Ray Bolger, Miss Shirley portrays a poverty-stricken little singer who adopts and manages a miniature swing band and zooms them all to overnight fame and fortune.

On the same program is "Last of the Duques" (Zane Grey), starring George Montgomery.

"The Little Foxes" is one of the most distinguished productions the screen has seen this year. Miss Betty Davis performs in this picture ranks among her greatest.
She is ably supported by the former Marshall as her husband, and the newcomer, Teresa Wright, as her daughter. The film will be shown Monday and Tuesday.

On the same program, "Moonlight in Hawaii," the latest musical fun-film, starring Leon Errol, Mischea Auer and the Marxes, presents many new song hits and dances.

Anne Shirley and James Craig, Tennessee youth who soared to picture fame as the doctor in "Kitty Foyle," share the romantic honors in "All That Money Can Buy," showing at the Strand next Wednesday and Thursday.

Edward Arnold and Walter Huston top the cast, based on the famous story by Stephen Vincent Benet. A contract with the devil, and what happens when the farmer who made it seeks to escape from the consequences of his bargain, comprise the plot theme of this unique picture.

Comedy, mystery and romance are blended in the swiftly paced story which unfolds in the new production, "Tupper Returns" on the same program.

The cast of "Tupper Returns" is headed by such Hollywood luminaries as Joan Blondell, Roland
Young, Carole Landis, Billie Burke, Dennis O'Keefe, Patsy Kelly, Eddie (Rochester) Anderson and Rafaela Ottiano. Roland Young and Billie Burke are back as Cosmo Tupper and his flutney spouse, the two previous famous hits, "Tupper" and "Tupper Returns." Cosmo Tupper again manifests his sometimes en-barrassing fascination for phantasms, and the lovely, shapely spirit which haunts him this time is Joan Blondell as the unearthly Gail Richards.

MOUNT ALBERT Euchre And Dance Held For Russian Relief

The nutrition class is to be held next week in the I.O.O.F. hall by the Women's Institute. This is something no one should miss. It begins Monday afternoon at two o'clock.

The snowstorm on Saturday resulted in very badly drifted roads all day Sunday and snowplows worked overtime to get them opened up. Because of this, along with the severe cold, very few people left their homes on Sunday, and on Monday morning it was still 12 below zero.

Everyone set their clocks ahead for Monday and soon the hour lost will be forgotten and people will get used to the new time.

A group of the Women's Institute under the leadership of Mrs. Sinclair, held a euchre and dance in the hall on Wednesday evening of last week and had $29.15 to hand over to the Red Cross for Russian relief. The lucky prize-winners for euchre were: ladies, Mrs. Jos. Harrison; gentlemen, Mel. Oldham; Chinese checkers, Mrs. H. Longhurst.

The Red Cross packing has been held over until Feb. 17, which will just give enough time to finish some more work.

Mrs. Noel Calver was called to Cochrane last week to attend the funeral of her sister, who had passed away there.

Mrs. Smalley of Scott is staying with her mother, Mrs. Quibell.

The pupils had several days holidays last week owing to having repairs made to the furnace at the public school.

Rev. R. V. Wilson and Mr. W. Campbell attended the meeting of Toronto east presbytery last Tuesday in Toronto.

The public library board have added a number of the newer books to their list, which are now on the shelves.

The Mount Albert Veterans' Association is holding a euchre and dance in the hall on Friday evening, Feb. 20, to provide cigarettes for the boys overseas. Several prizes will be given away for lucky tickets.

The world day of prayer for women will be observed in the United church on Friday, Feb. 20, at 2.30 o'clock. This is interdenominational and every woman is invited to come.

Mrs. Boyd of Orillia has been staying with her sister, Mrs. H. Rolling.

Almer Paisley is in the Western hospital, Toronto, following an accident which happened Saturday night in Newmarket, when a car crashed into their car, which was badly smashed up. Almer was hurt internally. The others in the car were bruised but were all able to come home the next day.

Mount Pleasant

No church service was held last Sunday owing to the big storm of Saturday. The snowplow went through late Saturday night on the concessions but not on the cross-roads, which had drifted the most.

Mrs. Lloyd Stiles, who has been ill, is better.

The Mount Pleasant Ladies' Aid will meet at the home of Mr. Stanley Wright on Friday evening, Feb. 13, at 8 p.m. All members are asked to provide.

TEMPERANCEVILLE ASK FOR MUNICIPAL HEALTH LEGISLATION

"We Can't Afford to be Sick" was the topic discussed by sick radio forums on Monday.

Scott Bowler led the discussion at the meeting held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Jennings and the municipal doctor system received much consideration. All agreed that "we are fortunate in this district to have an adequate supply of doctors and hospitals available but we are unfortunate both from the standpoint of doctors and people, in that the average person cannot afford to pay for adequate health services."

A municipal doctor system, providing for the care of folk in their own homes and for the work of an M.O.H. in the schools, was recommended.

Mae Harman read a report on the recent submission by representatives of various farm organizations throughout Ontario to the government of Ontario requesting legislation to enable municipal health services. The submission was then approved and a notice of this endorsement bearing the names of those present was forwarded to the premier of Ontario.

Ways of arousing public interest in the municipal doctor system were discussed at length. A lively recreation period, including an impromptu debate on the subject, "Resolved that women make better business executives than men," brought the meeting to a close. The group meets at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arwood Harman on Feb. 16 at 8.30 p.m., E.D.S.T.

The attendance at the south forum meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Jennings was somewhat smaller than usual owing to the weather and road conditions. The group expressed disagreement as to whether local health services were adequate.

The submission requesting enabling legislation for municipal health services to Hon. Mitchell Hepburn, Wilbert Jennings was discussion convenor and Mrs. M. Beynon led the recreation. Next week the group meets at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Beynon, with Mr. Middleton as convenor. The topic will be "Who Will Own the Land?"

the war.

"On the other side of the ledger we have Japan."

"We know today what we face. We have confidence in victory, even though we know we have a longer road ahead of us than we thought we had last year."

"Will Canada be sound after this war? Will Canada be able to repay? The only 'if' is if we win this war. Most people think that Canada will be sounder after this war than ever before."

"In 1941 we paid out of taxes 71 percent of war and non-war expenses," said Mr. Naim. "We are avoiding the mistakes we made in the last war."

"What is in the prospect's mind? The man you are going to sell bonds to? 'I am doing all I can. I can't do any more. I don't think that's true of the people in this room or elsewhere. I think that if it came to an emergency in our own home, with the life of a loved one at stake, we would find money for medical expenses. Think about that. All our loved ones' lives are at stake. Worse than death is domination by the Nazis."

"People talk about an all-out war effort. They think of what other people ought to do. They don't think of themselves. They read the war news. This is too much of a newspaper war. Everybody has got to see that it is his war. We have had too much of that sort of leadership all over the world. 'Let George do it,' and when the crisis came George wasn't there."

"This is no place for the slugging, as Mr. Churchill said, no place for the miser, no place for the careless person. This is the place for every Canadian who wants Canada to stay as it has been, who wants to keep about him the things he holds dear."

H. E. Lambert stated that canvassers would have to secure more subscriptions in this loan, as there would not be so many large subscriptions.

"Attendance at this meeting tonight is some indication that we in this district intend to get down to business," said Deputy-Reeve Joseph Vale. "It is also a testimony of personal loyalty to Mr. Davis, who so successfully conducted the previous campaign."

In closing Mr. Davis commended to his hearers the re-reading of "Horatius at the Bridge" with its lines, "And how can man die better, than facing fearful odds, for the ashes of his fathers, and the temples of his gods?"

SALVAGE WHY AND WHEREFORE

"Recent events in the Pacific threaten North America not only on the military and naval fronts, but also in the economic aspects of our war effort," according to an article on "Salvage" in the January report of the Royal Bank of Canada called to the Era's attention by W. A. Spear, secretary of the Newmarket Boy Scouts Association.

"From that corner of southeastern Asia most directly involved in war with Japan comes 99 percent of the world's rubber. Approximately 75 percent of the world's tin comes from the same area, which also possesses rich petroleum resources. In addition Japanese naval activity in the Pacific may well interfere with deliveries of Australian wool, Indian jute and hemp, Philippine and Hawaiian sugar and other products of vital importance to the world and in particular to North America."

"Reduction of civilian consumption is not the only contribution that can be made by the ordinary citizen. He can contribute in a more direct manner by increased activity in the important work of salvage. The collection of waste materials is not merely a wartime activity, it is an important business at all times. In this emergency, however, it must be placed, rather than a supplement, ordinary sources of supply."

"Because of a number of factors, the use of secondary materials has not been large in Canada during normal times. But we are rapidly increasing our collection and use of materials ordinarily considered junk. Our standard of living, the very productivity of our ordinary way of life may now yield an unexpected harvest. It is estimated that 2,000,000 tons of iron and steel scrap are resting in the basements, dump heaps and automobile graveyards of Canada. An intensive campaign is now under way to restore a large part of this scrap to valuable use in machinery and tools of war."

"The collection of iron and steel scrap is at present the principal objective of the National Salvage Committee of the department of national war services. But it is by no means the only objective. A nation-wide campaign for the collection of secondary materials of many kinds was in progress throughout 1941 and will continue until the end of the war. A special drive for aluminum was successfully undertaken in September and the collection of copper, brass, lead, zinc and other non-ferrous metals is continuous. All of these materials are essential to our war effort."

"Not only does the contribution of secondary metal relieve pressure upon our material resources, it affords a great economy in time and labor. In the case of steel, the use of scrap increases the output of the smelters; for example, a smelter turning out 10,000 tons of steel a week using iron ore alone can raise its output to 25,000 tons a week by using iron ore and scrap. The amazing increase in steel production is accompanied by an additional economy. If iron ore alone were used by Canadian steel mills the necessary increase in mine production would demand the services of many more skilled miners than are available. In addition to the time and manpower saved, there is a great saving in fuel and power; it is estimated that one pound of scrap aluminum recovered means eleven kilowatt hours of electricity saved."

"While there is apparently an inexhaustible theoretical waste of tin in the destruction of tin cans, the cost of recovery is so high that it would only be feasible in the face of the gravest emergency. Metals and rubber are not the only important items of salvage. The National Salvage Committee urges industrial establishments, business houses and individuals to collect and recover paper and cardboard, rags and fibres, oils and fats."

"Rags and fibres also have many uses. Wool can be used again in combination with virgin wool for new products, and rags are an essential in every machine shop and factory. In normal times, Canada used nearly $4,000,000 worth of raw materials in keeping machinery clean, efficient and safe, and about one-third of them were imported. Here is another way of saving vital foreign exchange. Bones are necessary for glue, and fats for the manufacture of glycerine for explosives. Of these materials, too, Canada is ordinarily a large importer."

"All these products can be collected in small amounts by individuals, but an elaborate organization is necessary to ensure that these small parcels are accumulated, sorted and distributed to the industries in need of them. In 2,400 communities in Canada voluntary salvage committees have taken on these tasks. Many ingenious methods are being employed and the total volume of waste material being returned to industry is growing every month. The campaign has the active support and co-operation of a unique war organization—the Canadian Institute of Secondary Materials. Through this institute the 'junk dealers' of Canada freely contribute technical assistance to the voluntary committees. It advises on methods of collection, of sorting and packing, acts as agent between the collectors and the ultimate users and ensures that materials are prepared according to proper specifications."

"All these efforts must be continued and expanded: in this as in other features of our war effort, final success or failure depends upon the co-operation of individuals. As long as a single newspaper, rag or metal article that can be salvaged is burned or thrown away, our effort lacks that much of being complete."

MRS. THOS. TRAVISS DIES IN 90TH YEAR

One of North Gwillimbury township's oldest residents, Mrs. Thos. Traviss died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Norman York, Baldwin, on Monday.

Eliza Everingham was the daughter of Emily Wilson, descendant of pioneer settlers, and John Everingham, who came from Leeds, England.

Mrs. Traviss predeceased her husband, Thos. Traviss, and three sisters, whose combined ages exceeded 350 years, held a reunion at Baldwin last summer. Mrs. Traviss was in her 90th year.

The funeral services were held on Wednesday afternoon. Interment was made in Newmarket cemetery.

Vivian

The ladies' meeting was held in the church last Wednesday afternoon, with Mrs. Mulholland presiding. Mrs. Hood brought a short message to the ladies.

Work which was completed was turned in to be forwarded to the Red Shield. Seventeen pairs of socks were knit and three lovely quilts made. Some articles of clothing were also donated by some of the members.

The young people had a very interesting meeting in the evening, with Miss Edna Pegg presiding. The scripture was read by Edwin Fockler from John 10 and a very encouraging message was brought by Mrs. Hood on "The Love of God."

Mr. Chas. Ratcliffe sang two beautiful songs during the meeting and there was also lovely duet by Irene and Robert Boden. A good drill was conducted by Bernard Hood and Yvonne Grose gave a reading. The meeting was closed with prayer by the pastor.

A very severe snowstorm struck this community over the weekend and blocked all the roads.

Sunday services all had to be cancelled, as it was impossible for the people to get out. Some of the schools also had a holiday on Monday as teachers were unable to get back after spending the weekend at their homes.

considered only for such places as the sugar-beet areas where these men could be housed in camps and kept at work in gangs under guard. Obviously these men could not be employed individually, he said, but, employed in these gangs, would release other men who could be.

One Thing at a Time

A lad had become the proud owner of a pig and insisted on having full care of it. After a few weeks, as the pig did not seem to thrive, his father said to him: "I'm afraid you're not feeding your pig enough. It doesn't seem to be fattening at all."

"I don't want to fatten him yet," said the young stockman, "I'm waiting until he gets as long as I want him, then I'll begin to fatten him."

Candidate for the Diplomatic Corps

At a reception in Washington a young man was asked by a widow to guess her age. "You must have some idea," she said, as he hesitated.

"I have several ideas," he admitted, with a smile. "The trouble is that I hesitate whether to make it ten years younger on account of your looks, or ten years older on account of your intelligence."

LOYAL REPRESENTATIVE

A member of the House of Representatives, who was very much impressed by the dignity of his position, was awakened by his wife one night with, "John, there are burglars in the house!"

"You must be mistaken, my dear," replied the solon, sleepily. "There may be a few in the Senate, but in the House—the idea is preposterous."

FRENCH—IN EASY LESSONS

Some Americans were dining in a French restaurant, and one of them wanted some hors-radish, but didn't know how to ask for it. "I know the French for 'horse' is 'cheval,'" he said, "and 'red' I suppose is 'rouge.' Now if I only knew the French for 'ish,' I could ask for some."

quires the house for the use of himself or his family (which would include relatives).

Farmers in southern Ontario are not entitled to buy sugar by the 100-lb. bag on the ground that they live in "remote areas," Mr. Wells said. This provision refers to Muskoka and similar districts, he stated.

K. M. R. Stiver introduced the speaker, Mr. Wells was accompanied by Roger Vincent, Toronto, a regional officer of the board.

CLIP THIS, PATRIOT!

The responsibility for salvaging waste materials for the war effort rests with the householder. The Era repeats again this week the list of materials to be salvaged. Clip it out and save it.

Paper of all kinds: where possible, different grades should be separated.

Newspaper: fold, tie in bundles or place in corrugated boxes.

Magazines: tie in bundles or in boxes.

Miscellaneous scrap paper: consisting of cardboard boxes, wrapping paper or paper of any kind. This may be packed in large cardboard boxes or bags.

Rags of all kinds: including string and burlap.

Rubber of all kinds: tires, tubes, rubber shoes, etc.

Metal of all kinds: particularly aluminum, copper, brass, lead, tin, tooth-paste and shaving-cream tubes, etc., except old stove-pipes, eavestroughing, and tin cans, which are of no value.

Bones and fats: bones should be accumulated in boxes or bags, and grease and fat in covered tin cans. Notice with regard to collection will be published shortly.

Tinfoil: leave in original form. Do not remove paper or flatten out.

Bottle caps and corks: these should be in separate containers, as they are liable to be lost if mixed with paper, etc.

In addition to the above, fruit baskets and wire coat-hangers are of value for use a second time. Fruit jar rings are valuable metal.

The government requires ever increasing quantities of paper products for military use in packaging shells, cartridges, clothing, medical supplies and many other essentials of war. Certain paper mills depend on waste paper for their production. Every available scrap of paper is urgently needed. Rubber and metal of all kinds are needed for manufacture of war equipment.

Bags for storage of papers, etc., will be provided on request.

The next collection will be on the east side of the town on Saturday, Jan. 24.

Collections from residential areas will be made each month or oftener if necessary, and notices of collection dates will appear in both town newspapers.

Telephone 431 for further information.

THE JOB MUST BE DONE —Let's do it!

As Winston Churchill said: "We can beat the life out of the savage Nazis."

We can't beat them unless we have more and better weapons.

And the only way to get more and better weapons is to raise the money to pay for them.

Other than by taxation, the only way to raise this money is for Canada to borrow it. The only way for Canada to borrow enough, is for EVERYBODY to lend.
